Dear Carol:

It was interesting to receive your letter about the Zepf marriage, but sad to hear about your cousin's death. We have had a hectic summer. My wife has a torn ligament in her ankle, so has been wearing some sort of boot or brace for weeks (no idea what happened or when). On June 4th, we left for a week's vacation through n.e. Ohio and n.w. PA. to track down my Anderson ancestor's brothers and their family, meeting with cousins, etc. We were enroute to a two-week study leave in Princeton, N.J.

Shortly after we left, my wife's parents made plans to move into a retirement center. Since my wife is the close daughter (an hour), with a sister in Tucson and one in England, so much falls on her. Since June 23 when we returned home, I think one or the other of us has been to Cincinnati every day except for about 4-5. We moved them July 8th, and been working to clean, divide, get rid of, etc. etc. etc. Because her parents frequently change their minds on things, we have taken things to them, been told there is no room, so taken it back to the old house, etc. The house is just about empty, and with any luck might get sold before the end of the month.

We did take one break from all this. My wife flew to Portland, OR. for a week with our daughter. So I decided to take the same time to go to Valparaiso. I slept at my brother's house, and spent every single day from July 26 to August 2 at the Valpo library. Like the dummy I am, I occupied myself with a wide variety of families (mine and some not mine). I also had some time to visit many relatives I hadn't seen for years. And it just happened that the reunion fell on the Sunday of that stay, so I did make it to that.

While at the library, Larry Clark said that he had seen you at a Fort Wayne library meeting. I also got involved looking up some things on the Nuppnau family – since there doesn't seem to be anything else on them in the library files, I thought I'd offer my "favor". I have a fairly good record of the family started, going back to 1820. Do you happen to know about when the Billy Nuppnau we have talked about was born? There is a Heinrich Wilhelm 1885-1944, who apparently ended up in California. He married a Marian "Grace" Wilson in 1908 and had a daughter Marian in 1919, who was living in California in 1944. There is also a William D., but he was b. 1907, d. 1984 (seems a bit late).

Speaking of family data, as I entered the information for your cousin, I realized that I don't seem to have any information on your particular family. I am showing details on your parents and your birthday and marriage, but don't have a thing on your husband or your children. If you could send me a family group sheet on you and your husband, plus any married children, I'd like to add it to my collection of data.

I guess that's about it for now. I left after church Sunday with a U-Haul trailer pulling my car, to deliver my son's portion of his grandparents' belongings to him in northern Alabama. Got it there at dark, and left the next morning in my car for the trip home. With various planned stops, and a stop at my in-laws home to move some things around, I finally got home last night at midnight. I feel like a zombie now, and really ought to take a nap. So I better quit this letter before I get totally confused. Thanks for writing, and I'll be looking forward to hearing more.

Sincerely,

Al

Happy Thanksgiving and Merry Christmas from Ohio!

Yes, it's a little early for the holidays, but as you can see from the letterhead, we have moved and thought this might be the best way to bring all of our friends up do date. As you may know, Al had assumed a pastorate in Indiana a couple of years ago, about 2 hours from his original home. It involved a church that had known some conflict, and we enjoyed a rather stable period in which some of the old wounds were healed. However, it also became obvious that the church would have great difficulty supporting a full-time minister. About the same time, it became clearer that we probably would not retire to the farm in Indiana as we had once thought.

On June 10 Al's mother died in the Sturgis, MI. nursing home where she had resided since his father's death in 1988. Meanwhile, in mid-May, Sue's father had hip-replacement surgery, followed by complications and a repeat of the surgery. He spent ten weeks in the hospital, and Sue made about 20 trips to Cincinnati. He is now able to do pretty much anything that he pleases, but it all played a part in our decision that if we were going to move, we would attempt to move closer to Sue's parents.

As things developed, Al was called to two churches about an hour east of Cincinnati, which he first had contact with ten years ago,and which had been trying to find him at old addresses. We moved in mid-October, and have spent the past month getting settled and acquainted. The Seaman church and the manse are located in a town of 1,000 (Seaman) which is just to the north of Hwy. #32 (the Applachian Highway). The Cherry Fork church is located five miles south, in a small community of about 200. The churches each have over 100 members, and are part of a 14-church "parish" or "council" which does multi-church programming together.

As this is being written, Sue does not have a full-time job, but is substitute teaching (usually five days a week) while exploring her various options. Daughter Marjory (now 27) is still in Portland, OR., where she has continued to shine as the resource development coordinator of REACH, an area non-profit organization which rehabilitates and rents low-income housing, and leads a variety of other community organizational programs. She recently received completed work on a certificate program especially for staff of non-profit organizations, and was named the "Outstanding Student". Hooray!

Son Kent (now 30) continues to serve with the U.S. Army in Atlanta (though probably moving in a few more months). He has been promoted to E-7 (Sgt. 1st Class). You may remember that in 1993 he remarried and also gained custody of his daughter Stephanie (now 7). The big news now is that Kent and Cyndi are expecting twin daughters around the first of March. Double hooray!!

So much for our somewhat interesting year. Now let us hear from you. Or better yet, let us know when you are planning to visit us in our new location. As we settle in, we become very aware that the Advent season is at hand, and Christmas is only a few weeks away. As we celebrate the good news of the birth of our Savior, may your lives be filled with peace and joy, and may 1995 fill you with many blessings.

Al & Sue Hamann

MRS. JOHN SCHLUNDT

Mrs. Elizabeth Schlundt, 90, formerly of 257 Michigan, died at 12:20 a. m. today in Augustana Home for the Aged in Chicago a long illness.

Born here Feb. 20, 1872, she was the daughter of Claus and Anna (Bruhn) Dreesen and a lifelong resident of Porter county.

She was preceded in death by her husband, John, who died in November, 1960. A daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Rutter, died in 1943.

She was a charter member of Trinity Lutheran church.

Surviving is a son, Walter, of Pompano Beach, Fla.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Trinity Lutheran church. The Rev. Duane Schroeder will officiate, and burial will be in Graceland cemetery. Friends may call at Wetmore Funeral home from 7 p. m. Sunday until noon Tuesday.

LOCAL MAN OBSERVES HIS 88TH ANNIVERSARY

Tuesday, Aug. 12, John Schlundt, 257 Michigan, observed his 88th birthday anniversary. Between 20 and 25 friends called at their home during the afternoon and evening to offer their congratulations. In the evening a group of friends dropped in, bringing refreshments with them. The birthday celebrant received many cards and gifts of flowers. Among the callers were Mrs. M. A. Dreesen and her father, Walter Parker of Whiting. Mrs. Dreesen is a niece.

Schlundt was born in Jackson township. From 1910 to 1938 he was motorman on the Valparaiso-Gary interurban, until trolley service was discontinued here. He was then transferred to Gary where he remained until 1943, when he retired. A long distance call from Walter Schlundt, a son, and his wife from Cape Cod, was one of the highlights of his day. The Walter Schlundts reside in Bronxville, N.Y., but were enjoying a week's vacation at Cape Cod. The Schlundts had one other child, Mrs. Evelyn Schlundt Ritter, deceased in 1943.

VALPARAISO COUPLE IS MARRIED 65 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. John Schlundt, 257 Michigan, quietly celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Aug. 22. A few close friends, familiar with the date, called at their home, and cards were received from several. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schlundt have been life-long residents of this city. Mr. Schlundt celebrated his 89th birthday on Aug. 12. They have one son, Walter residing in New York city.

Dear Carol:

In early fall 1990, I wrote a letter to a church in Germany near the area we had visited a month earlier. Wonder of wonder, on 27 Jul 1993, they answered! Though I had given up hope on them, I must say that their answer was well researched. On the enclosed Locht chart, they provided everything there on #4-5, 8-11, 16-19, plus the birth of #2. On the Bruhn chart, they furnished almost everything on #4-5, 8-11, except the names of #4 & 5. Even here, the name of #5 on her son's death record in Porter Co. is Elsabe Frodie. Since Trede is also a Porter Co. name, I am assuming that the death record name got mis-written or misread somewhere.

The fact that the Trede name appears on that Bruhn sheet, and again as #31 (the latter being in my ancestoral line) is intriguing in that Art Trede was a well-known figure around our area. I believe I checked once before and decided that there was not a great deal of genealogical data on Art Trede. He conceivably could have been about the age of Dora Bruhn, and perhaps they were cousins of some sort.

I realize that you are more interested in Bruhn material than Locht, but since I have both of these fresh off the copier, I will send them. As I think you can tell, Carl Hamann (#6 on Bruhn page) was the brother of Magdalena Hamann (mother of Johanna Maria Paulsen Hintz), so that is our common line. Wiebke Locht's husband Friedrick Hamann was Carl's son and Sophia Bruhn's brother. Needless to say this increased my data base considerably.

If you're hunting things up on the map, Hademarschen is almost directly north of Itzehoe and probably about 10-12 miles northeast of Hochdonn and Suderhastedt. Beldorf is about 3-4 mi. west of Hademarschen, while Bendorf is about 3-4 miles southwest of Hademarschen. The village of Pemeln (on the Locht page) is almost touching Hademarschen on its northwest side. I hope you find this of interest, and hope it lets you know that I am in fact still living, even if I have not written for some time. Maybe we'll get together again someday.

Sincerely,

Al

Mrs. Carol Springer

Ft. Wayne, IN.-46815

Dear Carol:

After being home from vacation 2 weeks, I have just today opened the first page of the numerous genealogy notes I took in middle August, if that tells you anything about how these last two weeks have gone. Part of the "problem" has been that we apparently have struck it rich on my wife's family during the last month. First, we made the acquaintance of a lady in Ohio (hereunto unknown to me), and then a man in Huntsville, Al. (a cousin of a lady I have met in southern Ohio). The first one provided me with something I probably could have gotten in Ft. Wayne library, had I looked. She sent the German IGI for my wife's maiden name, and of the 200 names on the pages, all but one were from the same village. It now appears that the various men who came to Cincinnati about the years 1850-70 may have all been related. The man from Alabama had actually been to the village while in the Air Force band, and he had some other birth/death records. Now it's just a matter of trying to find answers to those new mysteries -- Were there two Caspars, or one who married twice?, etc.

I don't know that I have any such revelations to share concerning our own family. I have been totally unable to track down elusive Lena, and so will continue to think she ended up somewhere around Aberdee, S.D., but died prior to 1915 (the absence of a soundex for 1910 for S.D. doesn't help).

In order to get myself one degree more organized, I have pulled together many of the various notes I had on the BRUHN family (all these significant families, and I go off working on cousins!). I am enclosing six pages of these. I know I have some obituaries & perhaps a few other notes, but this is what I have entered on the computer and typed out so far. It doesn't tell us much that was not in my original book, but puts it in one place. In my original book (p. 40), I didn't have anything on Claus Dreesen's sons J.J. and A.J. The 1920 census has added help here. After typing the first few pages, I see I do have some other census photocopies of the Dreesen family, so I have added them at the bottom of page 6. The 1900 census for Claus Dressen says they had 8 ch., 4 living. It appears now that J.J. was John J., and born c 1865, so he is obviously the first child in my book (p. 40), and someone else died young. Also, since John, August, and Lizzie were living in 1920, it appears that either Julia or Emma (from 1880 census) has died before 1920, if only 4 children are living. Since the other daughter is not in her mother's 1911 obituary, she must have died between 1900-1911.

On the last couple of pages, I included a few notes on Nuppnau, Bornhold, Jungjohn, etc. that may or may not be pertinent. I saw a Bornhold address in the Valparaiso phone book, so I wrote today to see if he knew of anyone researching that family. There is a Kathleen Jungjohan in the phone book, but I'll leave it to you to write her if you are so inclined -- 2105 Milford Ct., Valparaiso. I do know that Lydia Bornholt (presumably the one in Anna Bruhn's will) was the daughter of Hans & Antje.

If your mother remembers a Billy Nuppnau who was Dora's age, that would make him born about 1875. The one I saw was William H., b. 1885. He m 1908 to Maria Grace Wilson. You may be familiar with the History of Porter Co. book, where a Paul Nuppnau is discussed on page 795. He was the Paul C. (b. 1859), s/o Paul & Ida (see my page from Graceland Cem.). Ida was a Clausen before marriage, and "Clausen" is a name that tries to sneak its nose into our family tree without much success (cousin's cousin or something).

Paul Nuppnau (b. 1859) was one of 11 children. He married 1883 to Charlotte M. Atheros, and they had 5 children -- Charles, Wm., Paul, Laura, Martha. Charles and Paul are presumably the ones on the Graceland Cem. page (I had a little time that morning, & just drove through the cemetery;there are undoubtedly others from this family buried there).

Well, I now find myself getting confused, as I go round and round in circles, so I think I will bring this letter to a close. You may have to remind me if you think I have something else which is of significance to you. I'm looking at those census notes, and trying to figure out what I do not have. It appears that I am missing the following, should you get to the library and have a chance to check on them:

a. 1900 census for John J. Dreesen (probably Illinois)
b. 1900 census for August J. Dreesen (probably Lake Co.,IN.)
c. 1900 census for John & Lizzie Schlundt
*. John J. & August J. were in Lake Co., IN. in 1910, I think; without a soundex, it's not worth searching.
d. 1920 census for John & Lizzie Schlundt

It's interesting that the "Ship Bavaria" had Claus Dreesen and a 67-year-old Wiebcke. Since Claus is supposed to s/o Jacob (death record says), perhaps Wiebke was his mother, and John a brother. But who is the "Magdalena Bruhn" on that ship? (No, the Magdalena Hamann should only be 17 then, not 26, sorry!). Could she have been a sister to Anna, John & Claus Bruhn? Well, something else to think about. Have fun, and I always love to hear from you.

Sincerely,

Al

Dear Carol:

Needless to say, it was a very welcome surprise to make contact this week with another cousin I did not know existed. I hope the feeling was mutual. I am aware that we attempted to cover so much ground over the telephone that you are probably totally confused by now. So perhaps I can put a few of my notes down. I have a feeling that we will be sending several items back and forth.

I will write to my friend in Hochdonn, and ask him to check with the Suderhastedt church for a marriage record of Maria Paulsen. It will be far easier for him to cover that base.

My notes (I did not attempt to pay for official copies) indicate that Johanna Maria Paulsen, born 21 Apr 1845, was baptized 6 May 1845 at Suderhastedt. She was listed as "daughter of Magdalena Hamann, the daughter of Friederick Hamann & Maria Wei?" and it said that Johann Paulsen of Hademarschen was the father. One of the godparents was Maria Hamann (presumably her grandmother). I now know that her grandmother's maiden name was probably "Bei" or even "Bey" -- I've seen it both ways.

Also from the same church's death books, I show that Magdalena Hamann died 20 Sep 1845 at 20 years of age, unmarried, and that she was buried 23 Sep 1845. She was listed as the d/o Friederick Erdmann Hamann & Maria Bei. She had one daughter, Johanna Maria Paulsen.

I also have the death information for Friederick Erdmann Hamann in 1852, but Magdalena is not named, since she died in 1845. The same is true for Maria Bei Hamann who died in 1861.

I will send you photocopies of some things I have. The pages I have entitled "The Hamann Family of Hochdonn, Germany" represent a rather informal look at the family that I have thrown together in the past year. I still have to write something more official. You can see Maria Paulsen at the bottom of the first page. Her uncle Carl (born 1812) is my ancestor. On page 4 (top) is Sophie Bruhn, the daughter of Carl Hamann.

The sheet (pp. 40-41) on the Bruhn appendix is from my 1984 book on the Frederick Hamann family, now very outdated due to my later findings. The enclosed pedigree chart begins with my grandfather John Hamann (1869-1942). Johann Locht (#6) had a son Henry, who was the father of John, Max and Anna. Henry m Anna Boehl. As you may notice, the older Locht generations were apparently from the same location as the Bruhn family.

Dear Carol:

Needless to say, it was a very welcome surprise to make contact this week with another cousin I did not know existed. I hope the feeling was mutual. I am sure that we attempted to cover so much ground over the telephone that you are probably totally confused by now. So perhaps I can put a few of my notes down. I have a feeling that we will be sending several items back and forth.

I will write to my friend in Rockdonn, and ask him to check with the Suderbaeredt church for a marriage record of Maria Paulsen. It will be far easier for him to cover that base.

My notes (I did not attempt to pay for official copies) indicate that Johanna Maria Paulsen, born 21 Apr 1846, was baptized 6 May 1847 at Suderbaeredt. She was listed as "daughter of Magdalena Hamann, the daughter of Friederick Hamann & Maria Weil" and it says that Johann Paulsen of Nadenarrechen was the father. One of the godparents was Maria Hamann (presumably her grandmother). I now know that her grandmother's maiden name was probably "Bel" or even "Bay" -- I've seen it both ways.

Also from the same church's death books, I show that Magdalena Hamann died 20 Sep 1845 at 20 years of age, unmarried, and that she was buried 22 Sep 1845. She was listed as the d/o Friederick Erdmann Hamann & Maria Bel. She had one daughter, Johanna Maria Paulsen.

I also have the death information for Friederick Erdmann Hamann in 1851, but Magdalena is not named, since she died in 1845. The same is true for Maria Bel Hamann who died in 1861.

I will send you photocopies of some things I have. The pages I have entitled "The Hamann Family of Rockdonn, Germany" represent a rather informal look at the family that I have thrown together in the past year. I still have to write something more official. You can see Maria Paulsen at the bottom of the first page. Her uncle Carl (born 1812) is my ancestor. On page 4 (top) is Sophie Brunn, the daughter of Carl Hamann.

The sheet (pp. 40-41) on the Brunn Appendix is from my 1984 book on the Friederick Hamann family, now very outdated due to my later findings. The enclosed pedigree chart begins with my grandfather John Hamann (1869-1942). Johann Jacob (#6) had a son Henry, who was the father of John, Max and Anna. Henry & Anna Boehl. As you may notice, the older Locht generations were apparently from the same location as the Brunn family.

The enclosed map is from a roadmap I have of Kreis Steinburg (the county where Itzehoe lies). It is in color, so not everything is showing up well. Suderhastedt is at the upper left. About six miles southeast is the village of Hochdonn. It is along the Kiel Canal (also "North-East" or "Nord-Ostsee-Kanal"). That was the home of the Hamanns, where my ancestor Carl built a house in 1848 which still stands. There are still "Hennings" there, but I did not meet any of them. You may also see the village of Eggstedt (very top of map) where Carl and Magdalena's sister Maria (later Hennings) was baptized in 1820. Nutteln, a name you see on page 2 of the Hamann notes (where Hamanns and Locht's lived) is just off the map to the right. It is on the road east of Hochdonn on the way to Itzehoe.

The boundary ("county line") between Kreis Steinburg and Kreis Dithmarschen is roughly shown by my pink marking pen. To the left on the river is the town of Brunsbuttel. If you look north about two inches, you can find a small village of Westerbuttel, which I am guessing might be the village you mentioned. All of this on the west side of the line would be in the kreis of Dithmarschen. If you look at the right side of the map (towards bottom),you can see "WILS..", the beginning of the town of Wilster. It lies just about half way between the canal and Itzehoe. The next village southwest of Wilster is the little "Dwerfeld" which is mentioned near the bottom of my pedigree chart (#7-14-15).

I might say a word about the area cemeteries -- they are seldom of great help genealogically, since most of the tombstones are obviously new (even if dates are old). Plots are owned by family descendants, and they can later be sold -- with others buried on top of former people. The cemeteries are very beautiful, with flowers and hedges everywhere. If a family does not keep its lot up properly, it is taken from them and sold to someone else. Time did not allow me to walk every inch of the Suderhastedt cemetery, but I doubted that I would find more than I did in the church.

Another item I have it photographs, but I am uncertain concerning your level of interest in this. If I can find the negatives, it might not be too hard to make duplicates. I have many from the village of Hochdonn, and a couple from Suderhastedt (including the church, I think). I hesitate to go the time and expense of bothering with this, since I don't know your full interests.

Where do we go from here? Eventually, I will have to update my earlier works, but I'm not there yet. Perhaps you have specific questions I could tackle. I will write my friend to see about a marriage record at Suderhastedt for Maria and Henry Hintz.

From your end, I am curious as to whether any of this triggers a memory or two from your mother. I would especially be interested in any specifics she might recall about the Locht family, or any other memories about the Bruhn family.

I am also very interested in what that reference to a Miss Lena Heyman might have been. It sounds like she might have been the one who married Max Locht. I have before me the 1910 Chicago,IL. census (#103-1438-0297) of Henry Locht (widower, to USA 1870). In his household were the children John, Marcis, and Anna (35,33,29, John born IN. and the other two IL.). Our Hamann family reunion notes indicate that present at the 1931 reunion were Mr. Henry Locht, Mr. Max Locht, Miss Anna Locht, Mr. & Mrs. John Locht and family. At the 1934 reunion was Mr. Max Locht, along with Mr. & Mrs. John Locht and family. Mrs. John Locht won a prize in 1935. They stopped listing all attendees after that time, but you can see why it appears that John was always listed as married and Max was also listed by himself. I also have a note that a Margaret Locht,age 30 hours, was buried 27 Feb 1915 in Chicago's Concordia cemetery, but I am not sure if she is the d/o Marcus or John.

Incidently, the William Hamann of Crown Point (in Dora Bruhn's obituary) would be my grandfather's brother who lived on the Lake Co. and Porter Co. line southwest of Valparaiso. You evidently have an obituary for Dora that I have not seen, as mine does not mention such survivors.

I guess that is really about as far as I can go right now; it's also getting late. I will be eagerly awaiting any further word which you may offer or any hints of other relationships. I am not able to guess when I might be coming through Fort Wayne next. Although my sister (Mrs. Philip Pattengale, owner of the Schwinn Bicycle Shop) and my mother (in nursing home) live in Sturgis, MI., we rarely get to visit (maybe Thanksgiving or Christmas??).

Good luck on your family pursuits. Let me know if there is more that we can do together.

Sincerely,

Allen G. Hamann

Dear Carol:

Here it is, in case I haven't reached by telephone before you get this letter! Enclosed please find a copy of the letter received today from my friend in Germany. I know you want to get straight to page 2, because that's where he talks about the Hinz family (or Hintz or Hintze). If I figure it right, he's got your own gr-gr-gr-grandparents (b. 1774).

Let me tell you a little bit about Harald and his wife Marianne. First,his address: Harald Neumann, Hauptstrasse 33, 2224 Hochdonn (Germany of course). I originally had written to the "mayor" of Hochdonn, and they did what they do with all English letters -- they sent them to Harald. He and his lovely wife Marianne live in village-owned property. The big building has their spacious home on one end, and the firehouse on the other, which is also a community center. Across the back "parking area" is the school. Harald and Marianne are "the school" (I think they have one part time helper). Harald is also the "local historian", and is ever running back and forth from home to school to get a map, a chart or some other reference. Some of the time, Marianne's mother is with them. Unlike the other two, she speaks no English, but is a ball of fire.

As things evolved, my wife and I went to England in the sumemr of 1990, where I studied at Oxford for 3 weeks and she visited with her sister. We travelled a week or so in northern England and in Scotland. We then went to Hochdonn, where we lived for an entire week with Harald and Marianne. In the mornings, Harald and I went "record hunting" in local churches, and the rest of the time we just sat and ate and talked.

Harald is a history buff, but not as much of a genealogy fanatic as I am. My experience has been that at times he seems a little slow to answer a simple question (like "Is there a record for the marriage of Henry Hintz and MAria Paulsen?"), but as you can see, when he answers, he really answers.

At first I thought the information on the first page was all so redundant -- things I already had, and had shared with Harald. As I looked more carefully, however, I had the names, but never did have the dates which he was supplying. I think you can readily see that he is giving the birth and baptism dates. The German copy is the baptism of Henry's father John. Your guess is as good as mine on the hard-to-read German godparents listed (1,2,3).

Dear Carol:

Here it is, in case I haven't reached by telephone before you get this letter! Enclosed please find a copy of the letter received today from my friend in Germany. I know you want to get started to page 2, because that's where he talks about the Bunz family (or Bluhz or Blutze). If I figure it right, he's got your own gr-gr-gr-grandparents (b. 1774).

Let me tell you a little bit about Harald and his wife Marianne. Please note address: Harald Neumann, Hauptstrasse 33, 3224 Hochdonn (Germany of course). I originally had written to the "mayor" of Hochdonn, and they did what they do with all English letters -- they sent them to Harald. He and his lovely wife Marianne live in village-owned property. The big building has their spacious room on one end, and the firehouse on the other, which is also a community center. Across the back "parking area" is the school. Harald and Marianne are "the school" (I think they have one part time helper). Harald is also the "local historian", and is ever running back and forth from home to school to get a map, a chart or some other reference. Some of the time, Marianne's mother is with them. Unlike the other two, she speaks no English, but is a wall of fire.

As things evolved, my wife and I were to England in the summer of 1990, where I studied at Oxford for 3 weeks and she visited with her sister. We traveled a week or so in Northern England and in Scotland. We then went to Hochdonn, where we lived for an entire week with Harald and Marianne. In the mornings, Harald and I went "research hunting" in local churches, and the rest of the time we just sat and ate and talked.

Harald is a history buff, but not as much of a genealogy fanatic as I am. My experience has been that at times he seems a little slow to answer a simple question (like "Is there a record for the marriage of Henry Bunz and Maria Paulsen?"), but as you can see, when he answers, he really answers.

At first I thought the information on the first page was all so redundant -- things I already had, and had entered with Family. As I looked more carefully, however, I had the names, but never did have the dates which he was supplying. I think you can really see that he is giving the birth and baptism dates. The German copy of the baptism of Henry's father John. Your guess is as good as mine on the hard-to-read German wordwriting listed (3,5,7);

On the map, Suderhastedt is about an inch about Kleinrade (at the very top of the map, west of Hochdonn). You can see the two roads beginning to converge to enter Suderhastedt,and the big road from Hochdonn (to the northwest) is going there also. Eggstedt, which he quotes in the letter, is east of Suderhastedt and north of the village of Grossenrader (see just west of Hochdonn). Just off of the map to the right is the village of Nutteln, my grandfather's birthplace in 1869.

Back to Harald -- I would think he would be delighted to receive a letter of thanks from you, should you be so inclined. Since he can decipher English (better than he claims), that is no problem. If you had a burning question which you think he might answer, it is worth a try. But my initial reaction is that it would be best to attempt contact with the church in the village of concern, as Harald cannot possibly have total enjoyment in running all over the country for "us foreigners". I imagine he found everything he could, though Henry's parents leave a little gap, I think. It is likely they were married in another church of the area.

I still hope to get around to finding the negatives from our trip to Germany, and getting you some pictures. "Best laid plans of mice and men..." they say!

Meanwhile, I hope this helps a little (understatement?), and wish you luck in your look for Lena Heyman/Hamann in Chicago. That is the one missing link in my own research -- except for Friedrich Hamann (b. 1818, s/o Friederich E.) who was in America by 1852. I have no idea at all where he might have ended up; who knows when I may discover yet more cousins?

Meanwhile, keep up the correspondence, and I will try to get my notes in a more workable order before too long.

Sincerley,

AL

Merry Christmas 1991

So quickly past has gone this year,
We must rush now to send you cheer;
The Hamann news,while not so great,
Is shared to bring you up to date.

Christmas first came April 13, when son Kent arrived home from the Persian Gulf conflict. His parents were there (Fayetteville, N.C.), and so were his daughter Stephanie and her mother, along with several friends from Atlanta. In theory the troops were to march in formation from the plane to the waiting crowd, but Kent and a buddy quickly broke that tradition, and Stephanie ran out toward the arriving soldiers to surprise her Daddy.

Kent is still stationed in Atlanta. Granddaughter Stephanie (now four) lives with her mother in Indian Head, MD. We are scheduled to get her December 22, and then will travel on Christmas Day to Atlanta, where she will spend a couple of weeks with Kent.

Daughter Marjory lives in Portland, OR., where she is a community organizer and resource development coordinator for REACH, a non-profit organization which rehabilitates low-income housing (among a multitude of other tasks). She organizes volunteers, edits the newsletter, coordinates fund-raising, etc. etc. etc. We eagerly look forward to her visit to Virginia this coming March.

During the past summer, we drove to Portland and visited with her (going by way of the beautiful Canadian Rockies). We stopped in Seattle, where Al visited the place where he spent the summer of 1952 with great-uncle Rob Anderson. We were graciously housed two nights by genealogy acquaintances Dick and Carol Blount. On the way home, we spent a day with Al's great-aunt, Dorothy Ryan, in Colorado Springs. At 92, she still leads weekly Bible studies in her home, entertains family and friends, and is more active than many 70-year-olds. Sadness arrived in late Nov. with the death of her 98-year-old sister Roxie Patterson in Arizona.

Back in the Shenandoah Valley, much of the news centers around Sue's teaching arena. Three of the county high schools are due to enter one new building next September, with all of the obvious tensions of city-county conflict, teacher assignment anxiety,etc. Though certified in three areas (English, social studies, special education), Sue's main love is the "Learning Skills" program she created for lower ability students, which she hopes is included in the new school curriculum. Can politics and education mix?

Last May, Sue passed another milestone, as she received her 2nd Masters degree, a MALS (Masters of Arts in Liberal Studies, with an English major) from Hollins College near Roanoke. Her thesis involved a comparison of English women writers (George Eliot and Charlotte Bronte) and American writers (Willa Cather and Louisa May Alcott). Having visited the locations of all of the authors in the past three summers made the project especially meaningful.

In her spare time, Sue spent a week last summer at a work camp in Mexico (just across the border from Douglas,AZ.). This also made a visit with her sister Amy in Tucson possible. Sue's also on the local "Young Life" board, taking a painting class, and joining Al once a week at the local bowling alley, not to mention all of the multitude of church leadership roles.

Al is now in his 7th year as pastor of the 245-year-old Timber Ridge Presbyterian Church, a 200-member congregation somewhat low in teenage numbers, but with 60 children under 11 years of age. A large number over 65 also keeps things hopping on that pastoral front as well.

In other areas, he manages to get in some basketball, bowling and softball in their respective seasons,and spends most of his other available hours in his "genealogy office". Attempting to master last year's Christmas present (computer) has proven a challenge, and the ROOTS3 genealogy program has strained his sanity. Major projects this year have been following up on Hamann research from our 1990 visit to German homelands, and a breakthrough in Sue's ancestral data from a former East Germany village. Of course, if he would quit helping friends in the area, he would have time for his own relatives.

Among more modern relatives, Al's mother continues to "hold her own" in the nursing home in Sturgis, MI. (a block from daughter Carol), though Alzheimer's is a challenge. Sue's parents still manage to make annual visits to daughters in Arizona, Virginia, and the Netherlands about once a year, while serving a multitude of volunteer commitments.

That's about it from here. We look forward to hearing from you about your family and various activities, and hope that you have a meaningful Christmas season and a good new year.

Dear Carol:

Finally, the local developer has returned my slides, so I am able to send my "Chritmas present" to you. I have partially labelled them on the back, though you may wish to add other comments.

Kellinghusen was the church I visited to get some of the older Hamann records. Carl Hamann was born 13 Apr 1812, and baptized 19 Apr 1812. His parents (Friederich "Fritz" Erdmann Hamann and Maria Bey) were married 10 Dec 1811. The village mentioned in all of these records was Fitzbek. The marriage record indicated that Friederick was "of Fitzbek". Maria was born there in 1789. I did not personally visit Fitzbek. While it is possible that a church existed there, I do not think so. At any rate, all of the records are at Kellinghusen. Fitzbek is about 5 miles north of Kellinghusen, which is about ten miles east of Itzehoe.

This area is also important to my family,because the Lohse family was from Muhlenbarbek, a western "suburb" of Kellinghusen. Three sisters from the Lohse family married three brothers of my grandfather John Hamann. Incidently, they all had children in August 1908, which has given us a great family picture. My grandfather was from Nutteln (about 4 miles southeast of Hochdonn), where he apparently landed in connection with his wife's family - Locht.

The railroad bridge is very impressive, as you can see. It spans the canal, and carries all major train traffic from the Hamburg area north to Denmark. The Canal is under the "high" bridge on the structure. Halfway between this high part and the left side of the picture, you can barely make out the silos. Hochdonn is just up the street (left) from there, or at the very left side of that photo.

The Hamann house has of course changed dramatically over the span of 147 years. It had received some remodeling in 1988 when I got my first photos from Harald Neumann. As you can see, it has then changed tremendously by 1990. Originally, the end away from the chimney was the "barn", with the "living quarters" being under the chimney part. Now it is almost all home, with only the loft upstairs remaining as it was. I was taken up there, where the present owner's father showed me which beams were original and which ones had been replaced or braced.

Moving to Suderhastedt (about 4-5 miles west of Hochdonn, and the church which serves Hochdonn) -- the shadows do not do justice to the church building, but perhaps you can get the idea. Outside, the cemetery is "typical German". They are not like our kind at all. A family buys a large "lot" (in between the hedge squares) for 25 years, and they are expected to maintain it. If they fail to take care of it, it can be sold to someone else. At the end of the 25 years, they can renew their purchase. Over the course of time, bodies are simply buried on top of other remains (I know it sounds a bit gross, but in reality there is not too much that remains of our bodies, you know). Occasionally, they say, if a family has had its lot taken from them, remains may be dug up and "thrown over in the corner somewhere". Most of the tombstones are very new -- even when the dates are old. However, cemetery hunts are not the way to do genealogy there; you must get to the church records.

I recently received a very special Christmas present from Harald Neumann. I may have told you that Harald and his wife were "the teachers" for the village, living in a village-owned house. He is also the authority on "English-speaking", which is how I first made contact by letter. In addition, he is a historian, and he was commissioned to write a history of Hochdonn. It is finished, and last week my book arrived -- in German, of course. It is a fantastic, 250-page, hardback, glossy-paged, picture-filled book that is loaded with history and statistics. It even mentions my wife and ME by name, in referring to our 1990 visit. I only wish that it had an index. There is a great emphasis on early settler Claus Dreesen, but I have no idea if he is related to the Claus Dreesen who later married Dora Bruhn's aunt. The Bruhns were in a village about 10 miles northeast of Hochdonn.

Well, as you can see, life continues to be interesting for us. My main problem is that I am so tied up with a genealogy project for some friends near here that I have little time for myself. I need to get more selfish. I hope these pictures bring Germany a little closer to you, and apologize for the somewhat blotched ink job on the back of them. I hope you can make everything out all right.

I look forward to continued correspondence. And some day we will again make it to Sturgis,MI. to see my mother and sister, which will likely mean a trip through Ft. Wayne. Perhaps we will get a change to meet face to face someday.

Sincerely,

AH

A Few Excerpts from "The Preacher Creature"

One of the most interesting "labeling moments" came in the beginning years of the first church I served. One of the older teenagers with only a slight involvement in the church was what we might call today "mentally challenged." He was definitely not retarded, but he was "different." One day we were at the school basketball court, and he was one of the two boys choosing sides for the upcoming pick-up game. With his usual gusto, and in full respect, he announced, "I get the revenuer." Perhaps there is a message there, for the pastorate can be a taxing experience.

Around 1971, our family lived at a children's home near Philadelphia, where I was serving as the director of cottage life. We began attending one of the large Presbyterian churches nearby, facing a situation where we knew almost nobody in the entire congregation. We were participating in an adult discussion-style Sunday School class, and as usual I was tossing in my "two-cents-worth." At one point in the morning, the older lady sitting on my left turned my way with a slight smile and exclaimed, "I know the Bible says we're not supposed to judge one another, but I'm surely forming some strong opinions about you." For some reason my wife especially likes that story.

Upon another occasion, I was using a candy cane for my prop, explaining the colors used, the fact that it looked like a shepherd's staff if you held it one way, and then if you turned it the other way it looks like a "J" for – "Jordan!" one little boy with that name yelled out.

I wonder how many pastors have had their honesty questioned in the midst of the worship hour. In the early 1970s, during the last year I was in graduate school for my social work degree, I served at a church in a tiny village. I had been there about six months, and was already thinking about my departure time, when the women of the church decided to have a "welcoming party" for the new pastor and his wife. Mrs. A. was an older, long-time member of the congregation, and in charge of the arrangements for this event. She was a picture of decorum, and I can hardly imagine her ever raising her voice. On this Sunday morning, she stood to alert everyone about the upcoming "welcoming party for the pastor." She reminded all ladies of the assigned food which they had previously volunteered to bring, and invited all members to participate. As she concluded her remarks, I commented from the pulpit that "They were going to have this party sooner, but they wanted to make sure I was worth it." Instantaneously, Mrs. A., still standing, said "Al Hamann, you're a little liar." The congregation roared with laughter, and her husband slowly sank as low in his pew as he could.
